

Our results

We are able to evidence the positive impact of our therapeutic interventions through CORE, a monitoring and evaluation tool developed for use in NHS emotional and mental health services.

The graphs below show the start and end of therapy scores for the children and young people who ended therapy within the 2015 -2016 academic year so far.

